

HALF WAY DAY!

It is fun to have a “Half Way Day” celebration. You can have a “Half” themed party. I put some ideas here, but you can get creative and come up with some of your own.

1. Potluck dinner with everything “Half” themed. For example, someone can bring half of a casserole, or rolls that have all been cut in half. You could also do pizza that is half meat, half vegetable.
2. Once I bought a half sheet cake and had them put this on it:

Congr

You ma
HALF

Then I asked for a whole sheet piece of cardboard, and set the half sheet on the whole sheet. I cut the right end off, and it looked like a half of a cake that used to say “Congratulations, you made it HALF WAY!”
Everyone thought it was cute.

3. Black and white cookies.
4. If you think of any clever “half” decorations let me know. I haven’t come up with anything great.

If you get a chance to do this, please send me a picture!
